

INVITATION and PROGRAM

75 years of the Australian Antarctic Territory (AAT) Public Symposium, Hobart, 24 August 2011

Hosted jointly by

*School of Government, University of Tasmania/School of History, Research School of Social Sciences,
Australian National University; Institute for Marine & Antarctic Studies, University of Tasmania; and Antarctic
Climate & Ecosystems Cooperative Research Centre, University of Tasmania.*

Venue – CSIRO AUDITORIUM, Castray Esplanade, Hobart
8.45 – 9.00Registration and coffee
9.00–9.15	Welcome  The Australian Antarctic Territory (1)  Chaired by Tony Press	Sir Guy Green – Opening Address
9.15–9.45		Tom Griffiths – The AAT and the Evolution of the Australian Nation
9.45–10.15		Greg Mortimer – A Sense of Place: Tourism to the AAT
10.30 – 11.00Morning tea
11.00–11.45	The Australian Antarctic Territory (2) Chaired by Professor Peter Boyce	Marie Kawaja – The Acquisition of the AAT Mark Alcock – Mapping the Antarctic Continental Shelf Stuart Kaye – What the AAT Means in Law
12.00–12.45	The Australian Antarctic Territory (3) Chaired by Sir Guy Green	Andrew Jackson – The AAT and the Australian Psyche Indi Hodgson-Johnston – The AAT and Australian Youth Marcus Haward – 75 Years of Bipartisan Support
1.00 – 2.00Lunch (light lunch supplied)
2.00 –3.30	Antarctic Science and the Environment  Chaired by Associate Professor Marcus Haward	(tba) – If we didn’t have the AAT, would we still do Antarctic science? Ian Allison – Antarctic Science: From Sir Douglas Mawson to the IPCC 5 th Assessment Report Phillip Tracey – Climate Change: Implications for the Antarctic Environment and Australian Activities
3.30 – 3.45Afternoon Tea
3.45 – 4.45	The Future  Chaired by Dr Julia Jabour	Anne-Marie Brady – Asia’s Ever Increasing Engagement with Antarctica: Challenges and Opportunities Tony Press – Strategic Bifocalism: National Views in an International Context Richard Rowe – What will the next 75 years bring?
5.00Closing comments and live cross to Antarctica
5.15 to 7.00Reception at CSIRO

For catering purposes, please register with Julia.Jabour@utas.edu.au by Monday 22 August 2011